

Overview – CHOP Health Affiliates

Perspective

What are the CHOP Health Affiliates?

The Children’s Hospital (CHOP) Health Affiliates are currently six practices within CHOP (listed below) that are organized exclusively for charitable, educational, and scientific purposes. These practices are contracted with the University to provide medical services, engage in medical research, provide teaching services to medical students, and provide administrative services in hospital medical care. The faculty and staff that are contracted for these services include doctors, hospital staff and work study students. These employees are hired using the University Provost's Office requirements (It is required that these practices have an accredited University's backing when hiring staff). Activity booked to these practices usually include:

- Payroll expenses
- General expenses charged by University Depts.
- Use of the 125X object code series is required for these practices
